On Saturday 31st March, Anthony Joshua , (world heavy weight champion, with a ratio of 20:0 20 wins 20 knockouts), and Joseph Parker (who has had 24:0 wins and 18:0 knockouts) will be fighting at Principality Stadium, Cardiff . The question is who will win the fight?

This is arguably one of the biggest fights in heavy weight boxing history alongside Muhammad Ali vs. Joe Frazier 3, Oct 1, 1975. Some of the best boxers in the world have put their opinions on this fight; Deontay Wilder thinks that Joseph Parker will triumph.

We think that AJ will win the fight. He has been training a lot harder and he has a lot more strength. AJ's height gives him an advantage as Joseph Parker is a few inches smaller and hasn't trained as much.

As well as this we estimate that the whole of the UK will support AJ because he has an MBE and has done charity work. He has been giving to the poor, helping the homeless and he ran a marathon for 'Finding your Feet' in London. Also another charity he has worked with is called 'Snow Camp' which is to help snowboarding for kids aged 13-21.
