

Rugby thrasher

Charlie and Sean – Thursday 16 March 2017

On the 11th March 2017, England took on Scotland in a hard-fought battle of rugby in the Six Nations and came out victorious.

The English flew to victory with a hammering over Scotland and a final score of 61-21. The match took place at Twickenham with an attendance of 82,100 people. The match ended with tries from- (Joseph 3) (Watson 1) (B Vunipola 1) (Care 2). Scotland despite being thrashed at the time still went on and managed to get (3 Tries)

If England beat Ireland in there game
They will win the Grand Slam.
However they have already one the Championship.

England remain top after the win.

Vunipola replaces Nathan Hughes and Watson comes in for Jack Nowell in the two changes to the side that thrashed Scotland to win the Six Nations.

Scotland however, stay on 9 points and fear by not even coming 3rd or 2nd. Next they are playing Scotland. Elliot Daly is fit to play after a head injury against Scotland. England are chasing a 19th straight win, while a victory will also secure back to back Grand Slams. We found out from BBC sport "We're very excited ahead of a huge opportunity," said England head coach Eddie Jones. "It's going to be quite an occasion in Dublin so we understand we have to be prepared emotionally, physically and mental.

"We are a little bit vulnerable because we have already been crowned the Six Nations champions and we had a big win against Scotland, so for us it's getting the right mind-set for the game."